

Drs. Alderink, Maslach Complete Physician Well-Being Certificate Program

Congratulations to Jennifer Alderink, DO and Amelita Maslach, MD for completing the AAFP Leading Physician Well-Being Certificate Program. They were among the 120 physicians selected from a national pool to participate in the program, which was created to provide leadership development, training in physician well-being advocacy, and performance improvement project skill-building. You can read more about the AAFP Physician Health First initiative here.